Announcing an Extension to the Public Review Period for ASC X12 006020 Type 3 Technical Reports

On November 8, 2011 ASC X12 announced a public review period for nineteen ASC X12 Technical Report Type 3 (TR3) publications, we are pleased to announce today that in response to requests from industry groups, the public review period for those TR3s is being extended by 60 days and will now close on March 07, 2012.

The public review period commenced November 8, 2011 and will close on March 07, 2012 at 5:00 pm EST.

The developers will consider all comments submitted during the public review period. Official work group responses will be posted to the on-line conference at least 15 days prior to the corresponding Informational Forum. The posted work group response is not necessarily the final determination. Additional discussion in the Informational Forum may result in the work group approving a modification to the posted response. Such modifications are not posted to the on-line conference.

This is the only public review period. For a complete understanding of changes being suggested and/or made to the guide, reviewers should monitor the on-line conference during the public review period and consider all author responses prior to the Informational Forums.

Watch for the announcement of the corresponding Informational Forums. The Informational Forums are the final opportunity to comment on modifications based on the public review period comments.
